our lifestyle

Our lifestyle is simple, full of love, and centered around the things that matter most. We love making the most of every day. We met five years ago while working in a tiny town. Sean's friends knew Sammi, and Sammi's friends knew him, and eventually they gave us the little nudge we needed to meet. It didn't take long to realize we were meant for each other. We both work in our local community, which we love! Sean works for the county we live in, and Sammi works as a teller at a local credit union. We believe in hard work, kindness, and showing up for the people around us.

In our spare time, we love being active and social, planning road trips, and spending time with family and friends. Hosting game nights or just enjoying a relaxing night cooking together is our idea of a good time. We value experiences over things, and we hope to raise a child who sees the beauty in simple moments, understands the importance of kindness and inclusion, and feels deeply supported in whatever path they take.

OUR HOME + NEIGHBORHOOD

Our home feels warm and welcoming. It's full of laughter and those little everyday moments that really stick with you. It's a place where everyone just feels comfortable and can be themselves. We're lucky to live in a friendly dead-end neighborhood with kind neighbors and quiet streets. We live right by an elementary school as well! We love that our home has that nice feeling of community. Whether it's kids playing outside, taking an evening walk with our dog Sig, or just waving hello to the folks next door, there's always this sense of belonging that makes it feel like home.

Our life is full of fulfilling moments. One of our favorite things to do is take road trips, especially when we head to Ohio to visit family. It's not just about the destination, it's about the journey. We love stopping in small towns along the way, finding hidden gems like little diners, quirky shops, or national parks. Those slow, simple moments on the road are some of the ones we cherish most. We're always ready for something new!

More than anything, we want our child to grow up experiencing the world not just through travel, but through people, places, and moments that open their eyes and heart. We believe in raising a child with curiosity, kindness, and a strong sense of belonging. Whether it's road trips or quiet time at home, we want them to feel loved, supported, and inspired every step of the way.

So far our adoption journey has been the most exciting journey!

our family and friends

Our life is full of love, laughter, and a lot of time spent with our friends and family. We're lucky to be surrounded by such a supportive group, and they've all been incredibly encouraging and excited about our adoption journey. We love spending quality time together, whether it's going to UFC fights, cheering at football games, planning fun road trips, or gathering at Sammi's parents' house for big family dinners and game nights. We genuinely enjoy making memories with the people we love, and we're so excited to share that with a child. Sammi has three brothers and one sister-in-law that already have Aunt and Uncle experience and a lot of bonus aunts and uncles too! Our two nieces can't wait to have a new cousin to play with, and there's another niece or nephew on the way! We are more than excited to welcome a child into our growing family with all the love and support we are continuing to receive.

our letter to you

Dear Expectant Mother,

We want to start by acknowledging the incredible strength and courage you are showing right now. We know the decision you're facing is one of the most difficult and profound a woman can make, and we feel truly honored that you are taking the time to get to know us.

Our journey to adoption has been filled with hope, love, and a deep desire to build our family. We've longed to welcome a child into our lives, and adoption has given us a beautiful way to make that dream a reality. We are hopeful and excited about the future. Not only about becoming parents but about providing a loving, safe, and supportive home for a child.

We understand how important this decision is for you and your baby, and we want you to know how grateful we are that you are considering us as parents. Your bravery and love are at the heart of this process, and we deeply respect the selflessness and care you are showing by making this choice.

Please know that if you choose us, your baby will be surrounded by unconditional love, kindness, and joy every day. We promise to honor the trust you place in us and to raise your child with all the love and support they deserve.

Thank you from the bottom of our hearts for considering us. Whatever you decide, we hold you and your baby in our thoughts with compassion and respect.

With gratitude and warmth,

Sean and Sammi
